

Welcome to my site

You have arrived at my online space, welcome.

This site will give you insights on my writing, my interests and information about me.

I'm essentially a writer with a keen interest in the world around me, including, but not limited to, fashion, food, travel, beauty and lifestyles.

I brew my wit, thrive on candour and spin out articles, features and interviews.

At present I'm working on presenting you with glimpses of Luxury Lifestyles in India through the country's first Luxury TV channel from Voice of India.

So browse around, bookmark the site and visit it often for the latest updates.

Cheers!
